

ASK THE CANDIDATE DOES HEALTH MATTER TO YOU?

During the provincial election, your local candidates or their representatives are likely to reach out to you to get your support. This is your chance to let them know that you're worried about health care.

When a candidate comes to your door, to your workplace, to community events or if you're engaged in conversation online, here are some direct questions that you can ask to learn more about where each party stands on health care:

1 How will you make sure health care is a priority?

2 Do you believe corporations should take money away from patient care to boost their profits?

3 With demand growing as the population increases and inflation takes effect, do you think patients should be kept waiting until the price of oil increases? ...or until the budget is balanced in several years?

4 What resources will you dedicate to support health-care professionals in their aim to provide quality care in Alberta?

THIS ELECTION, VOTE LIKE YOUR HEALTH DEPENDS ON IT. BECAUSE IT DOES.
